New Versions Of Adobe Photoshop and Bridge Available

Photoshop 25.0.0 and Bridge 2024

Available to subscribers now. This version of Photoshop includes some major breakthrough A.I. technologies. Generative Fill and the Remove tool can change how you "fix" at least your personal-use photos. As to competitions, wait for the cries of "Not fair," and "That's not photography." And they'll probably be right. You only need to try Generative fill to see its potential. Forget Clone Stamp, Spot Healing brush, Patch tool. Want dust spots, or your mother in law, out of the picture? Click and done.

To see the all the new features after installing PS 25.0.0, open Photoshop, click Help, then What's New... There is a list with complete details and examples for:

- Feature summary for this new release,
- Experience Generative Fill,
- Explore beyond the canvas with Generative Expand,
- Replace distractions with Remove tool, and
- New Photoshop tools.

The A.I. Generative features of the new version will doubtless cause headaches for GSCCC, PSA, and other regional, national, and international organizations with serious competitions. I think some have already begun requiring RAW images to be provided along with finished competition entries. What we do at HCC, we'll have to discuss, I think. I've recently come across some pictures created totally with Generative fill! Are those photographs or just so much computer art? Stand by for the revolution.

Bridge 2024. If you use Bridge for slide shows and some other things that became less convenient with Bridge 2023, those things are back working again in Bridge 2024. As with Photoshop, to see what is "new" in Bridge 2024, open the program, click Help, then click What's New... For me, I was glad to have back my setup: Large center pane for selecting from thumbnails; right top panel with a small preview; right bottom with Metadata and Keywords; left top with Favorites and Folders; left bottom with Filters. I could press the spacebar with a thumbnail selected and it displayed full screen—perfect for competitions and just browsing. The whole system for me fell apart with Bridge 2023—and apparently for a lot of others, as the Adobe forum was on fire for quite a while. My workaround was to continue using Bridge 2022 which still worked. Now Bridge 2024 works. Some of what is shown as "new" will be new to users of Bridge 2023 but less so to users of Bridge 2022.
